

January 3, 2018

Lesson Plans

Happy New Year!

This week will be a time of pre and post testing in reading and writing. We will concentrate on vocabulary and reading comprehension and review the skills that are needed for deeper meaning in reading.

Your child should have a list of words to study for spelling. He/she will have a test on those words on Jan. 12. Extra time was given because there are more words and more features to study.